

'Open House' at Alderwood for Continuing Care Month

First cousins Brock Fownes (l) and Jacqueline MacDonald (r) visit with Johnena MacLeod after Brock's recent (and annual) performance for residents of Alderwood with his band the Keltic Cowboys.

Baddeck,

Alderwood is hosting an Open House to help celebrate Continuing Care Month 2011 on Friday, September 16th at 2 pm.

To mark Continuing Care Month – a provincial recognition of the contributions of this important sector and its employees and volunteers – there will be special events throughout the month. Everyone is invited to our celebration of the many dedicated people whose commitment to provide the best possible care and comfort is enriching the lives of Nova Scotians every day.

The continuing care sector represents a significant and integral component of Nova Scotia's health system. The term "continuing care" is used to describe a range of health-related services and programs that are offered outside of the hospital setting, either on a long-term or short-term basis. Continuing care services and programs help people to maximize their independence, promote their well-being and enhance their quality of life. The ultimate goal is to help people live their lives to the fullest in the place they can call home.

This is the 8th Annual Health Association Nova Scotia sponsored Continuing Care Month campaign. The theme is Above and Beyond Because We Care...Enriching Lives Every Day.

Visit www.continuingcaremonth.ca to download free Continuing Care Month posters and to learn more about continuing care programs and the variety of people of all ages and circumstances who access continuing care services in our province.
